Paint Happenin's!

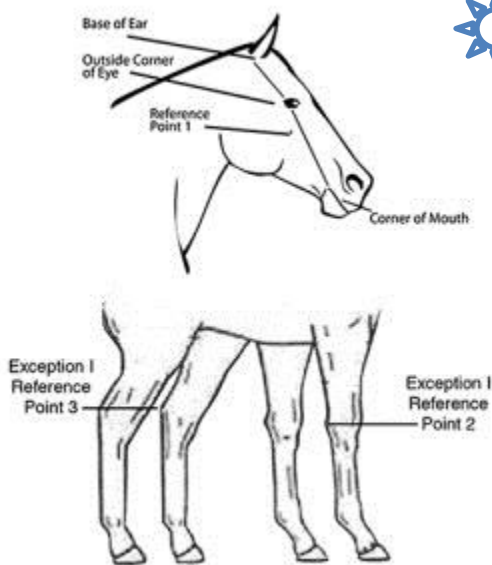

Tabitha Whitford judged the Windy Tides Schooling Show March 21-22. It was a great experience and even judged some follow paint owners. "Thankful for the opportunity and it was interesting to see the different styles of showing throughout different breeds."

Thanks to a new rule change, cropout Paints must meet the same color-registration guidelines as horses with at least one Paint parent. Under the new guidelines, which go into effect immediately, more cropouts will be eligible for APHA registration.

Now to qualify for the Regular Registry, Paints—regardless of lineage—must have a natural Paint marking that extends more than two inches above the center of the knee or hock, or beyond an imaginary line that extends from the base of the ear to the outside corner of the eye to the corner of the mouth and under the chin.

Jen Scarrow won the English High Point at the Windy Tides Schooling Show and Jessica Thorndycraft was reserve English High Point. Jessica won trail and Jen was third. This was Jen's first show ever showing a western horse! Team Shaw Performance Horses started the year off on the right foot!! "Cannot wait for Albany!"

Albany will be Jen's first APHA show. They also will be driving TE Resolution for the first time!

Rachelle Hetzel says 3 year old Max is showing in his first schooling show Sunday 29 at Silver Quarters!

Carissa Kreider tied for Reserve English 15 and Under High point at the Windy Tides Schooling Show!
